Dear Sir/Madam,

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to express my interest in returning to the workforce as a member of the Software Development Department. I permanently relocated to Turkey in Mar 2025 after spending several years in Poland and Canada. With over 10 years of experience in software development, leading development teams, and driving complex technical projects, I am eager to contribute my skills and expertise in a remote position with your esteemed company.

Throughout my career, I have worked with various technologies and frameworks, including .NET, .Net Core, and SQL, and have led the development of complex applications, managed full software development life cycles, and mentored teams of developers. My experience spans various industries, where I have successfully delivered high-quality software solutions, optimized workflows, and improved system performance.

I am now seeking the flexibility of remote work while leveraging my extensive technical background and leadership skills. I am particularly drawn to your company's reputation for innovation and commitment to excellence in software development, and I am confident that my skills would allow me to add significant value to your team.

I am excited about the possibility of contributing to your organization's success and would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my background, skills, and experiences align with the needs of your team. I have attached my resume for your review and look forward to the possibility of working together.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to hearing from you soon to arrange an interview or to discuss any potential opportunities.

Sincerely,
Burak Kepti
